Curating and the Curating of Culture(s) Paul O'Neill,2016-09-02 How curating has changed art and how art has changed curating an examination of the emergence contemporary curatorship Once considered a mere caretaker for collections the curator is now widely viewed as a globally connected auteur Over the last twenty five years as international group exhibitions and biennials have become the dominant mode of presenting contemporary art to the public curatorship has begun to be perceived as a constellation of creative activities not unlike artistic praxis The curator has gone from being a behind the scenes organizer and selector to a visible centrally important cultural producer In The Culture of Curating and the Curating of Culture s Paul O'Neill examines the emergence of independent curatorship and the discourse that helped to establish it O'Neill describes how by the 1980s curated group exhibitions large scale temporary projects with artworks cast as illustrative fragments came to be understood as the creative work of curator auteurs The proliferation of new biennials and other large international exhibitions in the 1990s created a cohort of high profile globally mobile curators moving from Venice to Paris to Kassel In the 1990s curatorial and artistic practice converged blurring the distinction between artist and curator O'Neill argues that this change in the understanding of curatorship was shaped by a curator centered discourse that effectively advocated and authorized the new independent curatorial practice Drawing on the extensive curatorial literature and his own interviews with leading curators critics art historians and artists O'Neill traces the development of the curator as artist model and the ways it has been contested The Culture of Curating and the Curating of Culture s documents the many ways in which our perception of art has been transformed by curating and the discourses surrounding it Twenty Over Eighty Aileen Kwun, Bryn Smith, 2016-09-06 Twenty Over Eighty is a collection of insightful intimate and often irreverent interviews with twenty architecture and design luminaries over the age of eighty Revealing conversations with leaders from a variety of fields including graphic designers Seymour Chwast Milton Glaser Lora Lamm and Deborah Sussman architects Michael Graves Denise Scott Brown and Stanley Tigerman urbanist Jane Thompson industrial designer Charles Harrison furniture designer Jens Risom and critic Ralph Caplan spotlight creators thinkers and pioneers whose lifelong dedication to experimentation and innovation continues to shape their disciplines well into their ninth decade Twenty Over Eighty is not only a record of the remarkable histories and experiences of design's most influential figures but also a source of knowledge and inspiration for contemporary creatives and generations to come Design Objects and the Museum Liz Farrelly, Joanna Weddell, 2016-01-28 Design Objects and the Museum brings together leading design historians curators educators and archivists to consider the place of contemporary design objects within museums Contributors draw on a wide range of 20th century and contemporary examples from international museums to consider how design objects have been curated and displayed within and beyond the museum The book continues contemporary global debates on the ways in which museums of design engage and educate their public Chapters are grouped into three thematic sections addressing The Canon and Design in the Museum Positioning Design within and Beyond the Museum and Interpretation and the Challenge of Design with chapters exploring museological practice and issues the roles people play in creating meaning and the challenges contemporary design presents to interpretation and learning within the museum Archigram Simon Sadler, 2005-06-24 The first book length critical and historical account of an ultramodern architectural movement of the 1960s that advocated living equipment instead of buildings In the 1960s the architects of Britain's Archigram group and Archigram magazine turned away from conventional architecture to propose cities that move and houses worn like suits of clothes In drawings inspired by pop art and psychedelia architecture floated away tethered by wires gantries tubes and trucks In Archigram Architecture without Architecture Simon Sadler argues that Archigram's sense of fun takes its place beside the other cultural agitators of the 1960s originating attitudes and techniques that became standard for architects rethinking social space and building technology The Archigram style was assembled from the Apollo missions constructivism biology manufacturing electronics and popular culture inspiring an architectural movement High Tech and influencing the postmodern and deconstructivist trends of the late twentieth century Although most Archigram projects were at the limits of possibility and remained unbuilt the six architects at the center of the movement Warren Chalk Peter Cook Dennis Crompton David Greene Ron Herron and Michael Webb became a focal point for the architectural avant garde because they redefined the purpose of architecture Countering the habitual building practice of setting walls and spaces in place Archigram architects wanted to provide the equipment for amplified living and they welcomed any cultural rearrangements that would ensue Archigram Architecture without Architecture the first full length critical and historical account of the Archigram phenomenon traces Archigram from its rediscovery of early modernist verve through its courting of students to its ascent to international notoriety for advocating the disappearance of architecture

Audience Engagement in the Performing Arts Ben Walmsley, 2019-09-11 This book explores the concept of audience engagement from a number of complementary perspectives including cultural value arts marketing co creation and digital engagement It offers a critical review of the existing literature on audience research and engagement and provides an overview of established and emerging methodologies deployed to undertake research with audiences The book focusses on the performing arts but draws from a rich diversity of academic fields to make the case for a radically interdisciplinary approach to audience research The book's underlying thesis is that at the heart of audience research there is a mutual exchange of value wherein audiences ideally play the role of strategic partners in the mission fulfilment of arts organisations Illustrating how audiences have traditionally been sidelined homogenised and vilified it contends that the future paradigm of audience studies should be based on an engagement model wherein audiences take their rightful place as subjects rather than objects of empirical research
