Justice Pedagogy Daniel Ian Rubin, 2017-02-01 This monograph lays out a qualitative collective case study designed to assess how students in a secondary Latina Latino Literature class began to think dialectically about issues of social justice By using various methods of data collection I ascertained how the students thoughts and perceptions of Latinas Latinos in this country changed over the course of the study I introduced the students to both print and nonprint texts e g news articles documentary films which when presented through Karl Marx s dialectical method helped them see social justice issues such as racism poverty and subjugation more clearly and critically After analysis several important themes emerged from the data stereotyping and invisibility in the media immigration the notion of power racism and discrimination education anger and frustration and questioning By the end of the Latina Latino Literature class all of the students in the study were able to identify particular social justice issues explain the historical context which framed the current debates e g immigration reform and articulate their opinions of the issues Each student participant started to use social justice terminology which I introduced and used frequently in class e g equity and these words became a part of the students everyday vocabularies Furthermore by the completion of the class the student participants began to realize that they had their own individual voices and could help transform societal issues in order to make the United States more equitable for all The Yazzie Case Wendy S. Greyeyes, Lloyd L. Lee, Glenabah Martinez, 2023-10-15 The story of Wilhelmina Yazzie and her son s effort to seek an adequate education in New Mexico schools revealed an educational system with poor policy implementation inadequate funding and piecemeal educational reform The 2018 decision in the Yazzie Martinez lawsuit proved what has always been known the educational needs of Native American students were not being met In this superb collection of essays the contributors cover the background and significance of the lawsuit and its impact on racial and social politics The Yazzie Case provides essential reading for educators policy analysts attorneys professors and students to understand the historically entrenched racism and colonial barriers impacting all Native American students in New Mexico s public schools It constructs a new vision and calls for transformational change to resolve the systemic challenges plaguing Native American students in New Mexico s public education system Contributors Georgina Badoni Cynthia Benally Rebecca Blum Martinez Nathaniel Charley Melvatha R Chee Shiv R Desai Donna Deyhle Terri Flowerday Wendy S Greyeyes Alexandra Bray Kinsella Lloyd L Lee Tiffany S Lee Nancy L pez Hondo Louis photographer Glenabah Martinez Natalie Martinez Jonathan Nez Carlotta Penny Bird Karl Pino cover artist Preston Sanchez Karen C Sanchez Griego Christine Sims Leola Tsinnajinnie Paquin Vincent Werito Wilhelmina Yazzie Transformative Ethnic Studies in Schools Christine E. Sleeter, Miguel Zavala, 2020 This timely and compelling book conceptualizes Ethnic Studies not only as a vehicle to transform and revitalize the school curriculum but also as a way to reinvent teaching Drawing on Sleeter s research review on the impact of Ethnic Studies commissioned by the National Education Association NEA the authors show how the traditional curriculum s Eurocentric view of the world affects diverse student populations The text highlights several contemporary exemplars of curricula from classroom level to district or state wide illustrating core concepts in Ethnic Studies across a variety of disciplines and grade levels A final chapter considers how research on P 12 ethnic studies can be conceptualized and conducted in ways that further both advocacy and program sustainability Transformative Ethnic Studies in Schools is essential reading for educators working to transform schools by rehumanizing learning spaces for all students Book Features Explores how the traditional curriculum is not ideologically neutral and the effect that has on both students of color and White students Situates Ethnic Studies within anti racist movements to decolonize schooling Illustrates the transformative potential of contemporary Ethnic Studies projects Draws on the insights of Ethnic Studies teachers researchers and activists from across the United States Updates and expands on NEA s synthesis of the research on the academic and social value of Ethnic Studies Christine Sleeter and Miguel Zavala pull no punches in their approach to ethnic studies in education Despite the negative critiques of ethnic studies rooted in White supremacy and the politics of fear their contribution to critical thought and praxis is necessary and commendable

Like many of our comrades in this struggle I rejoice in the fact that they remain undeterred and unafraid David Stovall University of Illinois at Chicago To Exist is to Resist Akwugo Emejulu, Francesca Sobande, 2019-05-20 This book brings together activists artists and scholars of colour to show how Black feminism and Afrofeminism are being practiced in Europe today exploring their differing social positions in various countries and how they organise and mobilise to imagine a Black feminist Europe Deeply aware that they are constructed as Others living in a racialised and hierarchical continent the contributors explore gender class sexuality and legal status to show that they are both invisible presumed to be absent from and irrelevant to European societies and hyper visible assumed to be passive and sexualised angry and irrational Through imagining a future outside the neocolonial frames and practices of contemporary Europe this book explores a variety of critical spaces including motherhood and the home friendships and intimate relationships activism and community and literature dance and film

Racial Subjection Theory in Higher Education Jon S. Iftikar, 2023-04-30 Inspired by his own personal experiences in the borderlands of racial intelligibility Jon Iftikar introduces racial subjection theory in this conceptual book The theory contributes to the third wave of college student development theory by drawing upon insights from cultural studies critical and postmodern theory and Critical Race Theory Through racial subjection theory Iftikar demonstrates how racial identity is not a stage status nor an internal essence but instead an on going process that informs and is informed by experiences with White supremacy where college students are positioned as racial subjects through racial ideologies and within hegemonic Whiteness Iftikar also utilizes the theory to analyze how students racial identifications and interests are formed and how students embody and enact their racial identities Re envisioned as racial subjection racial identity formation is thus a site of struggle of both domination and empowerment and a space for reproducing and or challenging racial inequities in higher education contexts In addition to its theoretical contributions the book aims to facilitate critical consciousness about race and racism in higher education among policymakers and practitioners that can reveal alternative sites for struggling against White supremacy and to provide conceptual tools for better understanding supporting and re envisioning important racial identity based forms of activism

Confronting Intolerance Stephen G. Mogge, 2008-01-01 Confronting Intolerance Critical Responsive Literacy Instruction with Adult Immigrants captures the experience of adult immigrants who are improving their English literacy while confronting an intolerant political culture It examines recent immigration policy and the anti immigrant fervor that has gripped the United States and describes the perseverance and struggles of immigrant students to pursue their goals through literacy education The book offers a powerful and vivid example of critical pedagogy blended with sociocultural perspectives of literacy education in an effort to raise student consciousness and alter the political culture Confronting Intolerances is an ethnographic teacher research narrative that describes a year in the life of the author s classroom with adult Latino immigrants mostly Mexican in a Chicago Illinois USA settlement house Specific focus is given to immigrant students response to reading material that was selected to meet individual ambitions but was also selected to meet the concerns and anxieties that surfaced in response to the intolerant climate. The book describes students' engagement with narrative and informational reading and displays the students' evolving perspectives on politics, economics, culture, and race as these relate to Latino immigrants in the United States. Through extensive classroom dialogue and descriptions of students engaged in political activities, the book explores the students' emerging sense of what it means to become American amidst an immigrant backlash. It takes the reader through a year in a settlement house classroom and reveals the hopes, dreams, and struggles of immigrants who continue to pursue America's promises, those realized and those broken. Reclaiming Poch@ Pop: Examining the Rhetoric of Cultural Deficiency C. Medina, 2014-12-10 Tracing the historical trajectory of the pocho Latinos who are influenced by Anglo culture in pop culture, Medina shows how the trope of pocho/pocha/poch, which traditionally signified the negative connotation of cultural traitor in Spanish, has been reclaimed through the pop cultural productions of Latinos who self-identify as pocho.

Achieving Equal Educational Opportunity for Students of Color Richard R. Valencia, 2024-09-27 Valencia presents the most comprehensive theory-based analysis to date on how society and schools are structurally organized and maintained to impede the optimal academic achievement of low SES marginalized K-12 Black and Latino/Latina students compared to their privileged White counterparts. The book interrogates how society contributes to educational inequality as seen in racialized patterns in income, wealth, housing, and health, and how public schools create significant obstacles for students of color as observed in reduced access to opportunities, e.g., little access to high status curricula/knowledge. Valencia offers suggestions for achieving equal education, e.g., implementing fairness of school funding, improving teacher quality, and providing students of color access to multicultural education by disrupting structural racism. Considering the rapid aging of the White population and the sharp decline of White youth coupled with the explosive population growth of people of color, this book argues that the American Imperative must be to assiduously mount an effort to provide an excellent education for students of color upon whom the nation will depend for a sizable proportion of its work force. Book Features: Examines how society and schools are failing Black and Latino/Latina students, principally Mexican Americans who are by far the largest Latino/Latina group. Uses theoretical frameworks that draw from analysis of structural inequality, critical race theory, anti-deficit thinking, narratives of class by race covariation, and an asset-based perspective of students of color. Discusses the American Imperative and the personal and economic consequences of not investing in students of color. White Washing American Education Denise M. Sandoval, Anthony J. Ratcliff, Tracy Lachica Buenavista, James R. Marín, 2016-10-03 Recent attacks on Ethnic Studies, revisionist actions in curriculum content, and anti-immigrant policies are creating a new culture war in America. This important work lays out the current debates both in K-12 and higher education to uncover the dangers and to offer solutions. In 2010, HB 2281, a law that bans ethnic studies in Arizona, was passed. In the same year, Texas whitewashed curriculum and textbook changes at the K-12 level. Since then, the nation has seen a rise in the legal and political war on Ethnic Studies revisionist actions in curriculum content and anti immigrant policies creating a new culture war in America White Washing American Education demonstrates the value and necessity of Ethnic Studies in the 21st century by sharing the voices of those in the trenches educators students community activists and cultural workers who are effectively using multidisciplinary approaches to education This two volume set of contributed essays provides readers with a historical context to the current struggles and attacks on Ethnic Studies by examining the various cultural and political wars that are making an impact on American educational systems and how students faculty and communities are impacted as a result It investigates specific cases of educational whitewashing and challenges to that whitewashing such as Tom Horne s attack along with the State Board of Education against the Mexican American studies in the Tucson School District the experiences of professors of color teaching Ethnic Studies in primarily white universities across the United States and the role that student activists play in the movements for Ethnic Studies in their high schools universities and communities Readers will come away with an understanding of the history of Ethnic Studies in the United States the challenges and barriers that Ethnic Studies scholars and practitioners currently face and the ways to advocate for the development of Ethnic Studies within formal and community based spaces Teacher Education in the 21st Century Maria Jose

Condition or Process? Researching Race in Education Adrienne D. Dixon, Gloria J. Ladson-Billings, Cecilia E. Suarez, William T. Trent, James D. Anderson, 2021-01-18 The question of why we need to think about how we research race demands a conceptualization of race that captures both its social construction and its temporal evolution We need both an understanding of race and clarity about how we talk about it in our design and conduct of research and in how we interpret and apply it in our findings As a field we can use research on race and racism in education to help construct social change Our purpose with this volume is to underscore the persistence of the discriminatory actions processes and the normalization of the use of race and class conditions to justify the existing and growing disparity between the quality of life and opportunity for middle class and more affluent Whites and that for people of color and people of color who live in poverty As editors of this volume we wonder what more we could learn and understand about the process and condition of race if we dare to ask bold questions about race and racism and commit to methods and analyses that respect the experiences and knowledges of our research participants and partners
