- Communication activities: Student's Book pages 138 & 140
- Pairwork. Put students into A and B pairs and ask them to turn to their respective pages and study the photo.
- They then work with their partner and show each other their photo. They describe the similarities and differences between the two photos and decide what links them.
- Refer students to the Useful language box below the exercise to help them.

That people sometimes use animals to work and entertain them.

- Pairwork. Students use the categories in the box to discuss with a partner the different ways animals are used by humans.

Possible answers:

leisure/entertainment: circuses
research: testing on animals for medical purposes or to test cosmetics security: sniffer dogs to test for drugs or explosives at airports; to protect property sport: horseracing; greyhound racing; fox hunting work: dogs for the blind and other disabilities;
workhorses for pull carts; mules and camels to carry people's belongings in some countries

- Pairs join up with another pair to compare their ideas in exercise 2. They then discuss the questions.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Pairwork. Students read the information and discuss the questions.
- You could then ask students to report back briefly on anything interesting they heard in their discussions.

Crafts

- If you have a class that likes dogs, get them to find out what happened at the most recent Crufts dog show. Ask them these questions:

- 1 Which breed of dog was Best in Show?
- 2 Can you find a photo of the winner?
- 3 What were other prizes awarded for?
- 4 If you want your dog to enter next year, what exactly must it do (or you do) to be accepted?

Reading to Learn in a Foreign Language Keiko Koda, Junko Yamashita, 2018-09-03 This book describes a theory-guided approach to Foreign Language (FL) course development, implementation, instruction, and assessment. It documents the development and implementation of a theory-guided approach designed to exploit cross-linguistically sharable competencies as resources for promoting FL learning. The volume delineates the processes of a) identifying cross-linguistically sharable competencies b) exploring ways of exploiting sharable competencies as resources in promoting language skills through their purposeful use for content learning c) implementing the instructional approach in multiple EFL classrooms and d) evaluating the approach by comparing learning outcomes across classrooms. It presents a solid conceptual framework that integrates theories in multiple research domains including second language acquisition, knowledge acquisition, and language assessment. It also provides detailed descriptions of framework construction and classroom implementation, the two processes that are integral to course design and development.

Successful Strategies for Reading in the Content Areas Sara Connolly, 2007-07-31 Three books containing a variety of reading strategies that will help increase comprehension. Some strategies include purpose questions, predicting, previewing, anticipation guides, webbing, writing before reading, etc.

Teaching Dilemmas and Solutions in Content-Area Literacy, Grades 6-12 Peter Smagorinsky, 2014-08-19 Because literacy is not just the English teacher's job. Think literacy is just for English teachers. Not anymore. Nor should it be when you consider that each discipline has its own unique values and means of expression. These days it's up to all teachers to communicate what it means to be literate in their disciplines. Here finally is a book ambitious enough to tackle the topic across all major subject areas. Engage in this cross-disciplinary conversation with seasoned teachers and university researchers and learn how to develop curriculum and instruction that are responsive to students' needs across English language arts, science, social studies, mathematics, visual space, and music and drama. Peter Smagorinsky and his colleagues provide an insider's lens on both the states of their fields and their specific literacy demands, including reviews of current issues and state-of-the-art research informing literacy education. Scenario-based activities for reflection and discussion typifying the dilemmas and challenges faced by practicing teachers Considerations of the textual forms and conventions required in each discipline Specific policy recommendations Read this book on your own for immediate suggestions on how to improve literacy instruction within your course of study Better yet share it with colleagues and participate in a larger conversation about how your literacy expectations influence the ways students read and produce texts in other disciplines The Reading Clinic ,1980 Study Guide & Laboratory Manual for Physical Examination & Health Assessment E-Book Carolyn Jarvis,Ann L. Handbook of Reading Research P. David Pearson,Rebecca Barr,Michael L. Kamil,Peter Mosenthal,Elizabeth B. Moje,Peter Afflerbach,Patricia Enciso,Nonie K. Lesaux,1984 The Handbook of Reading Research is the research handbook for the field Each volume has come to define the field for the period of time it covers When taken as a set the four volumes provide a definitive history of reading research Back of cover volume 4 Direct Instruction: A practitioner's handbook Kurt Engelmann,2024-04-05 Direct Instruction DI is a powerful instructional approach designed to ensure that students master critical skills and content required for more advanced learning Although DI has existed since the late 1960s there are many common misconceptions about the approach its potential to enhance student learning and the way its proper implementation facilitates students academic success This book provides a systematic explanation of the Direct Instruction methodology and DI program design as it outlines a roadmap for teachers and school leaders on how to implement DI successfully Divided into three main sections the first section describes DI as a coherent and complete teaching and learning system that contrasts DI with lower case di or explicit instruction which focuses on effective instructional delivery techniques The second section provides a step by step guide to implementing DI The third section is devoted to cautions about implementing DI This section reinforces the notion that the physical possession of the DI curricula does not by itself lead to student success Those who adopt DI need to ensure that it is implemented with fidelity for the benefit of their students who are reliant on them to provide them with the means to achieve their academic potential so they may lead healthy productive lives
